He settled his accounts as paymaster from which appears that he was in service from 1/22/1779 to 8/1/1781 upward of two years and six months. No reason to believe he resigned his commission as Lt.; if he was in service, as Lt., for 6 months (which the amount of pay to him renders probable), before he acted as paymaster he is entitled to land. Under the circumstances, he out to be entitled to land for three years.
